As a CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER®, or CFP®, professional, I help individuals, families and business owners bring clarity, structure and long-term confidence to their financial lives through comprehensive financial advice and disciplined wealth management. My approach begins with understanding what matters most: your goals, your lifestyle and the legacy you want to build.

I work closely with retirees, nonprofit leaders, business owners and agricultural families, many of whom face financial situations that require thoughtful coordination. My mission is to provide education, guidance and a holistic perspective so clients can make informed decisions and feel confident about their financial future.

For more than 20 years, I have proudly served clients at Edward Jones. A lifelong Tri-Cities resident, I earned a bachelor's degree in business administration from Seattle Pacific University and a Master of Science in personal financial planning from the College for Financial Planning. In addition to the CFP® certification, I hold the CPWA®, CEPA®, AAMS® and CRPC™ designations, expanding my knowledge base in wealth strategies, business transitions and the complex needs of high-net-worth and affluent families.

I am deeply committed to the Tri-Cities community. I am currently a member of Tri-Cities Sunrise Rotary and a past president of both the Pasco School Board and the Pasco Chamber of Commerce, as well as a founding board member of Mirror Ministries. From 2017–2025, I also served on the Washington State Board of Education.

My wife, Jamie, and I live in Pasco with our four children, along with our three dogs and two cats. Outside the office, I enjoy snowboarding, wake surfing and triathlons.

My branch partner, Senior Branch Office Administrator Kimberly Softich, brings extensive experience from her career in financial services since 1995. She joined Edward Jones in 2008 and holds a Financial Paraplanner Qualified Professional™, or FPQP®, designation, enhancing her ability to support the services we provide. Kimberly is passionate about building meaningful relationships with clients and the community.

A Moses Lake native, Kimberly enjoys exploring the outdoors on horseback and spending time with her dachshund, Huck. She is active with Back Country Horsemen of Washington and several dachshund clubs across Eastern Washington.
